

Welcome to Stapleton

Come in. Get comfy. Reach out. You can do it all in your Stapleton hi-tech home.

- We're ready for you. Your house is pre-wired for four TV locations, six telephone locations, and six data network locations.

- Take your coat off, stay awhile – your home is wired to work, relax, and play from home.

- Computer upstairs, printer downstairs? No problem. Share printers, files, hard drives, and modems throughout the house.

- Flexible and fast. Your home office can have as many as four separate and dedicated phone lines, making it efficient and productive to work from home. Each outlet can be configured and reconfigured as your technology needs change, and high-speed Internet is available throughout the house.

- Did you see that? Video signals -- including DVR, DVD, satellite, and security camera video – can be viewed on all your TVs and computers.

- Ever increasing bandwidth. Enjoy high-definition video streams, graphics-rich gaming and ultra-fast Internet access. Have a lot of information going in and out? This system can handle it.

- The heart of the system -- the structured wiring panel. From here, it's easy to add new technologies and systems. Just install them into the panel. Turn a phone jack into a data port just by moving a cable from one connector to another. Add a media server, telephone system, or more high-speed Internet locations. Your structured wiring system grows with you!

- No skimping. The system uses the highest quality cabling, connectors and design available, including high-grade "coax" cabling for video and Category 5e cabling for telephone and data networking.
